

Know Your Rights!

We have rights!

The Children's Commissioner for Wales is there to make sure that all children and young people in Wales find out about their rights. These rights are the things that children need to be safe, healthy and happy. The United Nations has a list of all the rights that children have. This list is called the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, or UNCRC for short.

To make sure that you get your rights the Commissioner has five super powers, they are to:

- Listen to what you have to say.
- Speak up about things that are important to you.
- Tell you about your rights.
- Help to make sure that you get your rights.
- Talk to you if you have a problem.

This is a lot of work and the Commissioner needs a team of Super Ambassadors from every primary school in Wales to help out. Two Super Ambassadors from each school work together to help their Commissioner.
